Olympic Links

The modern Olympic Games are not just about sport, they are also an opportunity for the 205 participating countries to enjoy and participate in the accompanying Cultural Olympics.

In the spirit of London 2012, why not explore some of the links our partner churches have with the Olympic nations - they are wide ranging and sometimes bizarre!

- Kirk Sandall St Oswald - The Rokeby Chapel is named after William Rokeby, Archbishop of Dublin at his death in the 1520's. The ceiling was obviously made for a different building, and cut to fit here. It is thought it was brought from Dublin by the Archbishop.
- Old Edlington St Peter - Arthur Wharton, the first black professional footballer in the world, was born in Ghana in 1865 of wealthy parents. He was a goalkeeper with several English clubs, including Sheffield United and Rotherham. At the end of his sporting career he worked in the coalfield and was buried in Edlington churchyard.
- Penistone St John the Baptist - In the church is a memorial stone to William Fenton of Underbank who was 'barbarously murdered by robbers in Algeciras, Spain in 1855'. His remains were buried in Gibraltar.
- Wadworth St John the Baptist - It is thought that people who founded the East India Trading Company were from Wadworth, and possibly built Wadworth Hall. It is also thought that timbers from HMS Resolute, trapped in ice in 1854 during the search for Franklins lost expedition to the Northwest Passage, were used in the church roof. The captain of the ship is also thought to be buried here.
- Wentworth Holy Trinity - One of the Earls Fitzwilliam was born in a hut in Canada, miles from anywhere. His father had been ostracised by the family, and in the Americas became quite a noted explorer. One story is that the father actually had a daughter, and 'swapped' her for a boy to make sure of the inheritance.
- Swinton St Margaret - The lovely wooden hammer beam roof of the church is made of Cauri Pine from New Zealand.

There are many more Olympic links to discover, so why not get out there and explore!

HERITAGE INSPIRED is supported by the Heritage Lottery Fund, the East Peak Innovation Partnership and other funders. We work with partner sites to promote their social, architectural and cultural heritage. We produce interpretation leaflets and publicity, organise events and activities and support volunteers. If you would like to be involved we would love to hear from you.

From December, we will no longer have funding to send this newsletter out by post.

If you could receive it by email, please send us a quick message to info@heritageinspired.org.uk

heritage festival

JUNE 2011

Churches, chapels, mosques, gurudwaras, synagogues and other faith sites are 'treasure houses' of history. They contain carvings, wall paintings, green men, roof bosses, gargoyles and heads, monuments, stained glass and more. Very few ancient sites are built in the style of one architectural period. Their history can be traced through a jigsaw of architectural styles. Faith sites are also keepers of community heritage - churchyards are a veritable 'who's who'.

South Yorkshire has an ancient and varied heritage. Our landscape and buildings show evidence of invasion, battles, faith, settlement, peace and the everyday life of local people.

Masons Marks request for help

The Friends of Throapham Church are trying to discover their links with other local churches through Masons Marks. They have already found that the same builder built Loversall tower as built Throapham.

If you would like to compare your Masons Marks with those at Throapham please contact Pam Cook on pammd15@tiscali.co.uk

the future keeping in touch

As most of you are aware our 5 year funding from the Heritage Lottery Fund comes to an end at the end of December this year.

We are working really hard to ensure that some of the work we have been doing continues, and would like to keep in touch with as many people as possible. BUT, it just won't be financially possible for us to send out so many paper newsletters and other information.

If you could receive our newsletters and other information by email it would help us out greatly, and mean that you will continue to hear from us for much longer. All you have to do is send your email address to info@heritageinspired.org.uk and we will put you on our email list.

Thanks!!

thankyou to...
